

Twenty-four States have adopted the Australian ballot system in most of its essential particulars, namely: Washington, Oregon, California, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Maryland, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island. Connecticut, Michigan and New Jersey have adopted reform laws not quite so sweeping, and the other States are yet in the outer darkness of fraud and chicanery.

The White Pine News says the projectors of Deep Creek railway are not altogether devoid of cheek. Before lifting a shovel full of dirt, they have had printed blank contracts, which they expect mine owners to sign, giving them a monopoly of the shipment of all ore from their mines for a period of fifteen years, said contract to be a lien upon the properties. If that's the kind of an outfit the Deep Creek railroad projectors are we don't hanker for them out this way.

A California paper publishes the following:

WANTED—Eighty Assemblymen and twenty Senators in Sacramento in 1893. Farmers and working men preferred. No lawyers, boot-lickers or professional politicians need apply. Address the people on or before November 1892.

When the time comes however the people will vote for the same old gang.

A branch of the Farmers' alliance is to be started in Nevada.

The main doctrines of the Alliance may be stated thus in epitome. First—Tariff reform. Second—Free coinage of silver. Third—Government loans on landed securities.

COAST NEWS.

H. L. Loveridge, a pioneer of Jackson, Amador county, committed suicide Sunday.

The testimony of the defense in the Olsen trial at Merced will begin Wednesday.

Mrs. J. F. Henderson of San Diego, aged seventy-six years, killed herself with morphine Monday.

British Columbia wants an increase in the Chinese head tax. It is now $50 and Victoria wants it made $100.

Twelve union miners at Wellington, B. C., are under arrest for beating a non-union man until life was despaired of.

M. T. Milliken, sentenced to 110 days in the Visalia Jail for non-payment of a $15 board bill, has been pardoned by the Governor.

E. Humason, a prominent cattle-dealer at Spokane, convicted of cattle-stealing, has been sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary.

Mrs. Annie F. Homer, who was thrown from her buggy last week at Haywards, has died from the injuries she then received, and her body was expressed to Los Angeles to be cremated.

The old tea clipper Oberon blew in to Astoria from Yokohama Sunday night after the fastest passage on record, being out but twenty-four days, which is almost equal to steam-ship time.

In a quarrel on the Jackson, Amador county, base-ball grounds, Saturday between A. Badaracca and V. Belluomini, the latter struck the former in the head with a bat and fractured his skull.

Tom Gallagher, bookkeeper for the United Verde Copper Company, at Jerome, A. T., Sunday, shot and killed James Hawkins, a Constable. The shooting was cold-blooded, and Gallagher's plea is drunkenness.

The body of Charles French, a miner near Poso, San Luis Obispo county, was found pinned to the earth by a tree which he had felled and which had fallen across his thighs, preventing any movement. His cries could not be heard, and he had evidently worked and struggled desperately, but vainly, to release himself with his knife. He had dug away at the hard earth and torn and bloody nails showed the terrible efforts he had made. He had been missing eight days.

There is a lively rise in wheat.
